ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

A CITY WARD AT THE CITY HOSPITAL.

The City of Cape Girardeau needs a ward at St. Francis Hospital. There should be some place for the unfortunate poor to go, where they could get proper treatment when ill.

Last night two men fought with knives. One was financially able to receive treatment at the hospital, while the other was not. Without approving such disgraceful exhibitions as took place on one of the principal streets, we believe the city should maintain a ward where such victims could be cared for.

But a city ward in the hospital would not only receive those who suffer by displaying their claws and disturbing the peace of themselves as well as their neighbors, but it would be a haven of rest for the sick and afflicted, who are deserving, but too poor to pay their way.

During the past few months there have been several cases where the sick poor of Cape Girardeau suffered without proper attention, simply because they had no place to go and the city had not provided a place for them.

It is particularly pathetic for a woman, especially one who has reached a feeble age, to be neglected when suffering from the ravages of disease.

Cape Girardeau is big enough to take care of unfortunates who are unable to take care of themselves.

KINDERGARTEN POLICE WORK.

Two men fought with fists and knives on the street last night, and each was seriously, if not fatally, stabbed, yet no arrests were made. Because the fight started in a building the police contend that it was a state case and therefore no arrests could be made until state warrants had been issued.

This is kindergarten police work. If the police of the cities pursued such a policy, every bad criminal would get away, and justice would always miscarry.

Some city officials ought to write to some city and get a police manual for our peace preservers to read. If the police of Cape Girardeau would not suppress reports of crime and take a course in how to make arrests from a correspondence school, the city would occasionally have a prisoner in jail.

AT NINETY DOLLARS A DAY.

Guy, Illinois, has appointed a commission of nine to "investigate unemployment in Illinois." The commissioners are to be paid $10 a day each, and the commission is empowered to "employ such necessary assistance as it deems wise and expedient."

It will be difficult and expedient to employ such assistance in such a manner as to leave unemployed friends, henchmen and hangers-on if the commissioners deem it expedient to pass the cakes and ale. The commission is to report to the Governor and the Legislature and will recommend a bill, or bills, designed to remedy the evil of unemployment.

Whatever may be the matter, or, indeed, whether anything is the matter, there is always a tendency to appoint a commission to make inquiries and report to a Governor, a Legislature, a President or Congress. There are reports of such commissions in Government archives.

One of the contributory causes of unemployment is that we employ commissioners at $90 a day, or more, to be professionally inquisitive for a spell, and then officially communicate for a while, and who, and whose opinions and reports are forgotten as soon as the commission disbands.

The commission in Illinois is composed, about equally, of labor leaders and representatives of employers. It would seem that if anyone should know what the matter is, these gentlemen should, and that if there is any source from which information should be instantly available, and from which it should come unobscured and gratis, whenever a Governor or Legislature might want it for its constructive value in shaping the course of lawmaking, the commission should be the commission ought to be that source.

Their intellect, information and informality, tell what's wrong. But a formal investigation, conducted with such assistance as may seem wise and expedient, and producing an exhaustive report, will, in all probability, be a waste of time and money. The cost of the investigation and report by a commission, and the cost to taxpayers of the cost—will be $90 a day.

DR. ADAMS SUSTAINS DOUBLE OPERATION

St. Louis Surgeons Seek to Remedy Appendicitis and Gall Stones

Dr. S. T. Adams, a dentist with office in the Hanna-Berger-Harrison building, yesterday had a double operation performed at St. John's Hospital in St. Louis for appendicitis and gall stones.

According to reports received from St. Louis, even the long distance telephone by relatives in the Cape, Dr. Adams last night was regaining his strength after the operation and his quick recovery is expected.

The Doctor went to St. Louis Sunday to go to the hospital and prepare for the operation. He was advised at that time by surgeons in charge of the case that he would be confined for three weeks or more by the operation.

He had been ill with the appendicitis and gall stones trouble for a long time. The gall stones gave him trouble intermittently. He was seized with an attack the latter part of last week and was rushed to St. Louis.

He was on the operation table for more than an hour, it was learned in the Cape yesterday.

Dr. Adams came to the Cape some time ago from Franklin County. He is married. He resides on South Spanish street.
